THE UNITED STATES POLL

EKE'S POPULARITY DOWN 6 POINTS SINCE MARCH

By Kenneth Kirk, Director, Princeton Research Service
President Eisenhower is still popular with voters across the nation, but somewhat less so than he was 14 weeks ago. At the present time, just about two out of every three voters interviewed in the nationwide survey completed last week say they approve of the way the nation's chief executive is handling his duties.

27 in each 100 say they disapprove.

In other words, those who approve of the way Eisenhower is doing his job outnumber by a margin of better than two to one those who disapprove.

When United States State report last week asked a representative cross-section of the nation's voters:

"Do you approve or disapprove of the way Eisenhower is handling his job as President?"

These were the nationwide results:

Eisenhower Popularity
Approve — 69%
Disapprove — 29%
No opinion — 2%

The March survey showed 73% approved, 22% disapproved, and 5% no opinion.

Today's findings thus represent a 6% decrease in approval and a 6% increase in disapproval.

Highlight of today's survey findings is the close division of opinion among rank and file Democratic voters across the nation.

At the present time, fewer than one out of every two Democrats in the nation express approval.

And more than two out of every five Democratic Party members express disapproval.

Democratic Voters Only
Approve — 48%
Disapprove — 42%
No opinion — 10%

In the March survey, Democrats voted as follows: Approve, 53%; disapprove, 37%; no opinion, 8%.

Among the nation's independent voters, 27 in each 100 today express disapproval. On the previous survey 23% expressed disapproval.

Independent Voters Only
Approve — 66%
Disapprove — 28%
No opinion — 6%

14 weeks ago, 73% of the independent voters expressed approval.

23%; disapproval, and 4% had no opinion.

Today, the nation's GOP members, sentiment has changed little since the previous survey.

Today, 85% of all GOP members express approval of the way the President is doing his job. In March, 90% expressed approval.

GOP Members Only
Approve — 89%
Disapprove — 7%
No opinion — 4%

As measured in this same type of survey over the past 18 months, the President's popularity has ranged from a low of 64% in November, 1953, to a high of 74% in April, 1955, (68% approve today).

At the same time, the disapproval vote has ranged from a low of 8% in March, 1955, to a high of 28% in November, 1953. (Today's disapproval vote is 27%.)

CHRYSLER'S POWER STEERING IMPROVED

Chrysler, which in 1951 pioneered power steering for automobiles, now has introduced a new type called coastal power steering, reports E. C. Quinn, president, Chrysler Division, Chrysler Corporation.

"Because power steering increases driving safety, makes driving more restful and provides efficient parking almost every automobile manufacturer has followed Chrysler's lead and offers power steering in some form," Quinn said. "This new device, designed and built by Chrysler, gives the same full-time operation and excellent performance as the original design but its streamlined, simplified design offers additional benefits."

The Chrysler coastal unit is designed as an integral car component, not as an add-on or booster feature. Its simple, functional design means less bulk in the engine compartment, allowing easier access to the other equipment such as starter and brake pedal.

It has fewer parts and is lighter in weight than any other integral-type power steering system now on the market because of its simplified mechanism. The power unit supplies additional life without adjustment. Service-free operation beyond the usual 1000 mile oil level.

check is provided as the gear is self-lubricated. No mechanical adjustments are needed, except possibly for a cross-shaft adjustment once or twice during the car's life. All other adjustments are securely locked in place when the unit is built. The unit applies power steering help directly in proportion to need and not on an on-again-off-again basis, so that drivers always have a perfectly constant feel of the road through the steering wheel. Whatever the steering job, the driver supplies approximately 30 percent of the effort. The power unit supplies the additional 80 percent so that there is no unpredictable change in the feel as power cuts in and out.

SERVICES OF OUR CHURCH DIRECTED BY JUNIORS IN SS

To carry out the theme of the month, "Getting Acquainted With My Church," the song "I Was Glad When They Said Unto Me," was sung by the Juniors because the words of this song come from Psalm 122:1. David wrote this psalm to help his people worship as they went to the temple. The Juniors discussed the many things in their church auditorium that help them to worship such as the organ, piano, Bible, songbooks, carpets for quietness, pews, etc. A Church bulletin was given to each junior and teacher in the department, with which they played a game of "I See." At this time all the acts of worship were named.

The program was closed by everyone singing "O Worship the King," to remind all of the things we will do to worship. Gary Norman was usher for the morning and Susan Clark, pianist. The weekly banner again went to the class of Mrs. Gladys Edwards' class of 12 year girls, third highest was Mrs. Jesse Bergman's class of 9 year boys. All boys present in Mrs. Bergman's class were 100 per cent.

The party for the Juniors is being planned for the week beginning June 28:

GEMS OF THOUGHT

Properly tries the fortunate, adversity the great. —Pliny. We are always in the forge or on the anvil; by trials God is shaping us for higher things. —H. W. Biecher. Life has no smooth road for any of us; and in the bracing atmosphere of a high life the very roughness stimulates the climb to steeper steps, till the legend, "over steep ways to the stars" fulfills itself. —W. C. Doane. If you would be on the mountain, you must consent to pass over the road to it. —H. C. Trumbull. Trials are proofs of God's care. —Mary Baker Eddy. Great trials seem to be a necessary preparation for great duties. —E. Thomson.

SEVEN "MINDS"

Mind your tongue. Do not let it speak hasty, cruel, unkind or wicked words. Mind your eyes. Do not permit them to look on bad books, pictures or objects. Mind your ears. Do not suffer them to listen to evil speech, songs or words. Mind your lips. Do not let tobacco foul them. Do not let the food of the glutton enter between them. Do not let strong drink pass them. Mind your hands. Do not let them steal or fight, or write any evil words. Mind your feet. Do not let them walk in idle steps of the ungodly. Mind your heart. Do not let the love of sin dwell in it. Do not give it to Satan. But ask Jesus to make it his throne.

TRY IT

Do not waste time looking at your bill. Climb it. There is only one way to make a dream come true—wake up and go to work.

No matter how good we are, when we stop getting better, we stop being good.

Strengthen your mind.

Open your door to Him, for He speaks for the homeless and hungry disaster victims, for the gravenly ill who need help, for the sick who need rest, and for the sick who need a friendly hand.

Be their voice—be their help in helping. Open your door to Him, for He speaks for the homeless and hungry disaster victims, for the gravenly ill who need help, for the sick who need rest, and for the sick who need a friendly hand.

A Hymn Is Born

BY CLINT BONNER

Take My Life and Let It Be

"A sick hymn writer sits up all night he sits only as he would have them used. Many another hymn had been written just as this one. It was in fact, the work of a pastor who was in Christ on the cross. That inspired Miss Haverall to write her first notable hymn, 'Give My Life for Thee'.

After the pastor and his 30-year-old pastor retired to her room. Her observations of the pastor's devotion to his work and his love of writing were God-given... and to the theme of one of her hymns. As her case of her short life (she died at 40) Miss Haverall was in the hands of the Lord. Her hymn 'Give My Life for Thee' had completed another of her immortal hymns which is given in part.

Take my life, and let it be
Swift and unobtrusive,
Take my life, and let it be
Always, only for my King.

Take my love, my Lord, I pour,
As Thy feet in treasure-store;
Take myself, and I will be
Ever, only, all for Thee.

Lord, I give my life to Thee,
These forever-mine to be;
Lord, I give my life to Thee,
These forever-mine to be.

Know that that every soul is free
To choose his life and what
For this eternal truth is given,
That God will force no man to heaven.

He'll call, persuade, direct
Right—
Bless with wisdom, love and light—
In countless ways be good and kind,
But never force the human mind.

Freedom and reason make us men;
Take these away, what are we then?
More animals, and just as well.
The beasts may think of heaven or hell.

GEMS OF THOUGHT
Amid life's quests, there seems but worthy one, to do men good. —Gamaliel Bailey.

OUTLINE FOR THE INTERNATIONAL UNIFORM SUNDAY SCHOOL LESSON—June 27, 1954
LESSON TOPIC—II Kings 17:1-14, 18
By Rev. Robert Ford

INTRODUCTION:
This closing lesson in ascribes on the Prophets is given the title of "Judgment Comes To Israel." The fall of Samaria is the culmination of the warnings and pleadings of the prophets.

I. The Assyrian Captivity II Kings 17:1-6
Palestine was the land bridge between Asia and Africa. Assyria marched against Israel. The last King of Israel was Hoshea, a vassal king appointed by Assyria; he revolted and the nation fell in 721 B. C. Those who didn't perish were carried in captivity; the land was given to immigrants from other parts of the Assyrian empire. The Kingdom of Israel had come to its end.

II. The Cause of Samaria's Fall II Kings 17:7-18
The secular historian would say it was a case of a small state falling to a superior military power. The sacred historian sees in the fall the final judgment of God on a disobedient nation; the prophets were sure that the destruction of the nation rooted in moral and religious causes. The moral and religious failure of Israel stood out in darker colors because Israel stood in covenant relation with her God and because Israel persisted in her apostasy in spite of the protests of her prophets. II Kings 17:18 says "They went after false idols, and became false." This is a sentence in the summary of the history of Israel. The ten tribes lost their separate existence and became absorbed in the pagan culture around them in their captivity.

CONCLUSION:
Men reach the final destiny by the way of the road they choose to travel. Those who choose "Christ as 'The Way'" come to a happy destiny. Those who choose the pathway of evil come at sunset to tragedy; God has given men a way of life, not a way of death. Death comes through the rejection of His offered way of life.

Favorable comments on Rev. Smiley are being received from interested in community affairs, cooperates with schools and activities by furnishing printed programs and speaking at meetings. He honors the views of others. Many worshipped in his church even though their religious concepts differed materially from those held by the Methodist Church.

ESAU MISSED THE BOAT SAYS EPISCOPAL VICE.

Esau missed the boat, Father John Clarence Petrie told the congregation of St. John the Apostle Episcopal Church last Sunday. He came in from a hunting expedition weary and famishing for food. His scheming brother knew that Esau was stupid, the victim of his own immediate desires, so he exploited the situation to win the inheritance which should have been Esau's. Esau let the whole thing go to get something into his empty stomach. This is a parable as well as history, said the vicar, too, as tempted to take something cheap and near while that which was being seeking for we surround, even our eternal salvation.

Next Sunday Father Petrie will draw upon Franz Werfel's Song of Bernadette to illustrate a sermon on "The Heavenly Vocation." The Divine Liturgy will be celebrated at 9 a. m. John Townsend and Earl Williams will be acolytes.

CHURCHES OF CHRIST, SCIENTIST

The vital importance of understanding the inspired Word of the Bible, spiritually will be brought out at Christian Science services this Sunday.

The Lesson-Sermon entitled "Christian Science" includes the following selection: "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy.

"The Scriptures are very sacred. Our aim must be to have them understood spiritually for only by this understanding can truth be gained. It is this spiritual perception of Scripture, which lifts humanity out of disease and death and inspires faith" (547:23-25, 31-33).

From the King James Version of the Bible the following passages will also be read:

"For ever, O Lord, thy word is settled in heaven... O how love I thy law! It is my meditation."
